Outspoken Figure in 'M' GEN. TRUDEAU FOR NO.

Copyright

Gen. Trudeau, who once headed Army Intelligence, told the Senate Preparedness sub-committee yesterday that censorship of his speeches in the State and Defense Departments made him "wonder about the motivation involved." He also lashed out at "fellow travelers" and "Fabian socialists."

The effect of this on his possible appointment was not immediately known. It was learned, however, that Gen. Trudeau's name heads the Army's list to succeed Air Force Gen. Charles P. Cabell, who recently retired as Deputy CIA director. Lieut. Gen. Joseph Carroll, head of the new Defense Intelligence Agency, was understood to be the Air Force nominee. The
